Many Arab citizens do not favor equal participation for men and women in public and private decision-making spheres.

Who agrees that a woman can become President or Prime Minister of a Muslim country?

- 56% Moroccans
- 55% Tunisians
- 52% Lebanese
- 56% Palestinians
- 71% Moroccans

60% of Arab publics agree that men should have final say on decision making within the family.

Countries covered by Arab Barometer’s survey 2016

- Algeria
- Tunisia
- Palestine
- Jordan
- Lebanon
- Egypt
- Morocco

Despite widespread acceptance of women’s rights in education and employment, there remains low acceptance of Arab women as leaders.

- 81% Algerians
- 79% Egyptians
- 74% Jordanians
- 69%
- 60% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- University education is more important for males than females
- A married woman can work outside the home if she wishes
- Husbands should have final say in all decisions concerning the family
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 11% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Education does not influence men’s views

- 63% Women, below secondary education
- 43% Women, secondary education or above

- 56% out of 20 Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- University education is more important for males than females
- Women, below secondary education

- 91% of Arab citizens who agree
- A married woman can work outside the home if she wishes
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 77% of Arab citizens who agree
- Husbands should have final say in all decisions concerning the family
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 73% of Arab citizens who agree
- Women, secondary education or above
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 19% of Arab citizens who agree
- Husbands should have final say in all decisions concerning the family
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 67% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 11% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- University education is more important for males than females
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 7% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- University education is more important for males than females
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 60% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- University education is more important for males than females
- Men are better at political leadership than women

- 11% of Arab citizens who agree
- Men are better at political leadership than women
- University education is more important for males than females
- Men are better at political leadership than women